

November 28, 2010

Zechariah

From Silence to a Song

Luke 1:5-20; 67-80

Silence is not evidence of the inactivity of God but the prelude to his mighty works.

I. Silence is always a time for us to learn not a time for God to figure things out.

Psalm 46:10

II. Silence is a prelude to God revealing Himself as redeemer.

Matthew 26:53

III. Silence is a prelude to God revealing Himself as judge.

Revelation 8:1

IV. Silence is broken by song when saints grasp the activity of God.

Luke 1:68-69